New Years Resolutions

Each New Year is a great opportunity to take an inventory of what is really important. That is why we love the holiday season: we spend time with friends and family, we make sure our loved ones really know that we love them, and we put our money where our heart is in supporting our favorite charities. Here at MRWC, we each decided to let you know what our New Year's Resolutions are for what we value most . . . YOU!

Christine's Resolutions:

- 1) More interaction with our members. Let me know if you want to have coffee sometime!
- 2) Develop policy and science committees for the organization. Let me know if you want to be a part of one!

Tracie's Resolutions:

- 1) Get more people actively involved protecting and enjoying their river. It's a free recreation source in tough economic times!
- 2) More public outreach with the community and our volunteers.

Murielle's Resolutions:

- 1) Try to increase the number of memberships than that of 2008! Finding new and effective strategies to do so.
- 2) Find out or let us get responses from our members on how they help to protect the environment.

Did you notice that Janice has not listed her resolutions?

Farewell to Janice

Bittersweet describes how I'm feeling right now. I have given my notice and am leaving amicably, though regrettably. My time here was certainly not long enough; I'm very grateful for all that I have learned. Circumstances have changed for me, and I will be moving on. The good news is I will be able to continue to be an advocate for the organization and can help in others ways. Back To Top

Calling All Massachusetts Drivers !

Do you recognize the license plates below? Did you know that sales of these plates support programs like MRWC's water quality monitoring program?

Like many voluntary expenses these days, purchases of the Right Whale, Brook Trout and Blackstone Mill license plates are down. This adversely affects the ability of the Massachusetts Environmental Trust to help support the important work we are doing on the Merrimack River. To find out more about purchasing a Massachusetts Environmental Trust plate for only $20 per year (tax-deductible), go to <http://www.mass.gov/rmy/express/plates.htm> and show your support of MRWC and other environmental work being done across the state.
